Amir "King Seven" Shakur

Global Influencer • Journalist • Quantum Leadership Expert • Motivational Speaker

Amir A.H. Shakur, aka King Seven, is a global influencer, author, journalist, Quantum leadership expert, and motivational speaker from Chicago's South Side. He is the host of the nationally syndicated Amir Shakur Speaks television program, radio host of Soul Uprising on WYCA Chicago, author of the Mental Jujutsu book series and The Global Influencer Playbook, and a music producer and recording artist.

Shakur has multiple multimedia projects in the making, including the children's series called Amari Little and Friends as well as a fashion line Amir X Millennium.

A former contributor to The Huffington Post, Amir has interviewed national newsmakers including Samaria Rice, mother of Tamir Rice, and Jacob Blake Sr. His broadcast channel has earned 200,000 views and counting, with viewers in the UK, Canada, the US, and around the world. Through ASN News and the Amir Shakur Speaks Morning Show, he delivers news, interviews, and faith-based motivation that moves people from inspiration to action — living by the principle that where your focus goes, your faith flows.

Amir is available for speaking engagements, interviews, and media appearances worldwide. His Stand Up and Speak Out world tour launches January 2027.

His website is amirshakurspeaks.org.
